Hello Fandi!

Thank you very much for your letter and the phone calls! Nice to hear your voice again. I don't know why but you made me feel happy, or should I say in a good mood. ^{as} I've been thinking a lot about ^(after you've promised me) ^{you and} that was a bit "strange" for me. As you always do or did, you made me think of life in general, about why we are here,
and what's gonna happen when we die. ~~That~~ That dream you had was very strange, don't you think so? When did you have that dream?

After you phoned me on Monday? Well, there's a lot of things I would ask you but I can't think of ~~anything new~~ I don't know where to begin. Did your modern friend marry the American girl ~~after~~ three months after he had met her?
Well, I think that's crazy. That's out of order I think.
I suppose it's because of the way I'm brought up.
I mean, if someone get married (here in Norway) after knowing each other for only three months ~~people just~~ they normally break up.

after a couple of years because they didn't know each other enough before they got married. That happens again and again and it seems to me that some people just don't learn. I mean, ~~that~~ ^{thinking} about the ~~suiciders~~ ^{suiciders} who get married but about their kids. Think that's terrible! They give up too easily. So I don't think I will get married, at least not in the first to three years. I hope I can come to England and see you if I can afford it. I would like to go and visit my friend (Salomon) in St. Alban

100. Shirley and Colinto.
I am going to finish the school this year and then I might study law. Don't be surprised!
Well, I've always wanted to do that. Well, we'll see if I'm going to study law or if I'm going to study physiotherapy. There's a lot of things I would like to do. I am a big "dreamer" you see. But it all depends on the results next year. Well, anyway, I don't think there is more for me to say in this letter so I better end it here. I hope to see you soon.

lots of love, Heidi.

P.S. ~~I send you~~ I'll give you three photos, you asked for one but when you get three photos ~~highly, crush Heidi~~
